ACS Administration for Caprivians, S-files

Introduction

The Administration for Caprivians was apparently established in 1972, in follow-up of the recommendations of the Odendaal Commission to create Bantustans in South West Africa. Details of its establishment have not yet been researched. It was disbanded by the Namibian constitution of 1990. However, as administrative re-arrangements took time to be effected, files extend into the year 1992.

The records in this fonds ACS originate from the Personnel Department of the Administration for Caprivians.

They record details of the human resource administration activities in the Caprivi Bantustan, but do not contain individual staff files.

The arrangement follows the given file numbering, volume numbering and file naming, which is at times inconsistent, and oscillates between English and Afrikaans. This reflects the prevalent staffing of the Bantustan administrations with Afrikaner civil servants, despite the fact that Afrikaans was otherwise rarely used in the Caprivi region. In this findaid, no effort is made to reconcile inconsistencies or to translate file titles.
