Allgemeine Zeitung Annual Indexes 1958-1991

Introduction

The Allgemeine Zeitung, Namibia's oldest surviving newspaper, has been published under this name since 1919.

In 1958, editorial staff started to compile annual indexes according to rather broad headings. The headings were frequently changing. It is therefore not possible to provide a general guide for the indexing system, and users will have to check through each year to identify suitable heading for their search. Nevertheless, the indexes are a valuable help to find newspaper articles.

The indexes were photocopied in 1992 at the newspaper's offices by Peter Reiner. They cover the years 1958-1991. They were bound at the National Archives into annual volumes (or two volumes per year for more voluminous indexes), and are accommodated in 16 standard archival boxes.

It has not yet been established whether the Allgemeine Zeitung continued with their indexing work after 1991.
